

Ngaro waiwai anga | Cased Caddis (caddisfly)

FUN FACTS

- Like snails, these freshwater insects carry their home with them. Their home is a case that they build to protect them from predators and their environment.
- Caddis undergo complete metamorphosis (like butterflies!) where they have a pupal stage between being larvae and winged adults.